With a simple keyword search, you can easily pull posting results. Search by title, skill, company, even degree.

You can even choose what kind of sites you pull postings from.

Find the results you're looking for? JobPulse has the ability to export your results into an Excel spreadsheet; and you can even save your searches and results in folders for future use.

Whether you're skill marketing candidates, looking for new clients that are actively hiring, or just keeping tabs on the employment market (and your competitors), JobPulse makes posting aggregation easy.
